ANNOUNCEMENT.

Mr. Ludwig Koenigstein wishes to announce that his full term opens now. His system of teaching is based upon the laws of relaxation. The object which has always been kept in view is how to enable the pupil to grasp in the easiest comprehensible way the mass of facts, rules, etc., which make up the modern art of piano playing.
For particulars apply at his studio in the Koenigstein block.

THURSDAY TIDINGS.

The other twin girl baby of Ernest Maas died last night.
The Elkhorn train from the east was an hour and a half late last evening.
Twenty-four tickets for Omaha were sold at the city depot of the F. E. & M. V. this morning.
The Sugar City Cereal mills are adding new machinery and making quite extensive improvements to that already very complete plant.
It is announced that Herman Siedschlag and Miss Emma Peters will be married at Christ Lutheran church next Sunday.
Miss Dawson, who was injured while bathing at Taft's grove on Monday, is getting along nicely, and the indications now are that she will suffer no serious results from her mishap.

A week from next Sunday Christ Lutheran church will have a missionfest at this place, which will be attended not only by the members of the church but by those from surrounding churches as well.

The order has been changed regarding the transportation of company L. to Lincoln on Saturday, and according to the present plan the company will leave over the Elkhorn, probably at 6:05 Saturday morning.

Christ Gauger, a baker, was given a berth in the cooler last night to recover from a case of too much beer, and this morning his honor assessed him the usual amount of dough for such cases made and provided.

The heat of last night prevented a large audience from witnessing the production of East Lynne at the Marquardt hall last evening. The Brownridge & Collins company, however, gave a very good production of that worn out, sentimentally sloshy piece.

I. Dougherty, a switchman in the yards of the F. E. & M. V., met with an accident at the Creighton depot yesterday which will lay him up a couple of days. As he was passing from the platform into a car, the apron gave way and let him fall between the car and the platform. Although the distance to the ground was only about five feet, he was considerably bruised up about the legs.

So many new pupils came into the eighth grade of the schools yesterday and today that at a meeting of the board of education this morning it was decided that justice could not be done all by continuing the combined form that has prevailed since the schools opened, and Miss Gayhart was elected to teach the second eighth grade in the High school, while Miss Mary Bryan was elected to fill the vacancy thus made in the Washington school.

George W. Beymer is not insane. The examining board says so, and that body had ample opportunity to find out, having consumed two days in hearing evidence in the case. The trial consumed all of yesterday, closing about 6 o'clock last evening, when the board promptly rendered a verdict that there were no grounds for holding the accused and he was discharged. Mr. Beymer came home last night and this morning again donning his uniform went back to his beat as policeman in the Fourth ward, just as though there had been no unpleasant incident in his life.

Before the afternoon was over yesterday the thermometer crawled one notch higher than the figure shown at 1:30, making the highest temperature 101 degrees above zero. Last evening the promised cool wave came along but the atmosphere was so thoroughly heated that it took a good while to get it tempered down. By morning, however, the mercury receded to 65. There were indications of rain all night but none fell until about 9 o'clock this morning, since which time it has been showering all day, making the atmosphere more comfortable and life again worth living.

Felix Hales, editor of the Tilden Citizen, was in the city yesterday afternoon arranging for the reception to be held in his town today. When it was found that Hon. W. M. Robertson could not be present to make the address, Mayor Simpson was prevailed upon to supply the place. The reception is tendered to 14 returned soldiers who enlisted from that town. Not all of them were with the Fighting First, a portion being in the Second and Third Nebraska. The festivities of the day will consist of speeches, a free dinner and an afternoon of sports. Mr. Hales said a big crowd would be present, as all that section of the country was expected to turn out.

THEY GET TOGETHER.

Candidates for Sheriff Reach an Understanding.

GARDNER AND CLEMENTS AGREE.

Divide the Norfolk Delegates to the Republican County Convention, With Understanding that they Determine Whose Name Shall be Presented.

Messrs. J. J. Clements and S. L. Gardner, both aspirants for the nomination as sheriff of Madison county at the hands of the republican party, have finally reached an agreement, which it is hoped will settle amicably what was feared would be a serious rupture in the republican ranks. Both parties realize that to go to the county convention with a split delegation meant the probable defeat of both for the nomination, or in the event that either were nominated the antagonisms made while trying to secure favorable delegates would react at the election and make the success of the nominee very doubtful. Looking at it in this light, it became very essential that an agreement be reached and that it be done before the Third ward caucus last evening. Hence, yesterday afternoon the two gentlemen came together and again went over the situation, the result of that conference being a stipulation which recites that an agreement has been reached in the interest of harmony and for the purpose of insuring success in the republican party. Under the agreement, which is made subject to the ratification of the republican caucuses, each of the two candidates is to be allowed to select one-half of the delegates accredited to Norfolk, and after all the delegates have been elected they will be invited to meet in caucus and ballot upon who shall be the Norfolk candidate for sheriff, and that when either of the candidates shall receive 20 of the 30 votes which Norfolk will have in the county convention, then it is the desire of these candidates that the one receiving the 20 votes shall have the unanimous support of the entire delegation. The agreement also states that of the delegates already elected, the five in the First ward shall be accredited to Clements and the three in the Fourth ward to Gardner. The other two wards are divided on the basis of giving Gardner four in the Second ward and five in the Third. Clements three in the Second ward and four in the Third. It is figured that the outside precinct will break even, although both agree not to try to influence the selection of delegates in that caucus.

The Third ward caucus ratified this agreement between the two candidates at the meeting last night, and the same proposition will be submitted to the Second ward caucus which convenes tomorrow evening. If the agreement is endorsed by that caucus then a meeting of all the delegates will be held at the city hall Saturday evening to decide who shall be the candidate. There is no specification as to what shall be done in case the delegates fail to agree upon a choice, but as there is no desire on the part of either candidate to go into the convention with only half his home delegation, it is presumed some way will be provided out of the difficulty in case the arrangement does solve the difficulty as contemplated.

Third Ward Caucus.

The caucus of Third ward republicans at the city hall last evening was fairly well attended. The meeting was called to order by Committeeman Burt Mapes, and the caucus was organized by the election of Mr. Mapes as chairman and W. N. Huse as secretary.

Motion prevailed that the name of J. S. McClary be forwarded to the county judge with the recommendation that he be selected as one of the judges of the general election in November, and the name of W. H. Lowe for one of the clerks.

Upon motion it was decided that the primary election to select judges to the county convention, be held at the office of Salter & Son, from 12 to 7 this afternoon, and that G. B. Salter be selected as judge of such election and Clarence Salter as clerk.

Previous to the selection of candidates for delegates to the county convention, a statement was made through a representative by Messrs. Clements and Gardner, aspirants for nomination as sheriff, that they had come to an agreement between themselves and asked that the caucus ratify the same by allowing Clements to select four of the delegates from the Third ward to the county convention and Gardner five. After some discussion motion to that effect prevailed, and the two candidates retired and made up the list as follows:

W. N. Huse, M. C. Hazen, Burt Mapes, M. C. Walker, J. B. Barnes, E. A. Bullock, W. H. Bucholz, G. M. Thompson, J. S. McClary. On motion the persons named were declared the nominees of the caucus for delegates to the county convention.

Delegates to the precinct convention yet to be called were selected as follows: P. F. Sprecher, J. R. Hays, W. H. Dexter, G. B. Salter, Geo. Davenport, A. J. Johnson, J. B. Maynard, Jack Koenigstein, M. R. Morris.

The delegates present at the county convention were instructed by motion to cast the entire vote of the ward and it was ordered that no proxies be recognized.

It was moved that in the caucus contemplated under the agreement between Messrs. Clements and Gardner, to determine which shall be the Norfolk candidate for sheriff, any delegate unable to attend shall be authorized to select a representative to cast his vote.
